The Dales by bus and train

The beautiful countryside of the Dales is easily accessible from West Yorkshire by bus and train.

Dales Bus timetable and information for 2009 \(pdf, 850k\)

How to get there

There are many ways to access the beautiful scenery of the Yorkshire Dales by public transport from West Yorkshire. Good bus and train services run to several towns on the edge of the Dales from where daily buses run to the main towns, villages and tourist attractions of the Yorkshire Dales, providing many opportunities for a great day out.

These are supplemented by extra bus services direct from West Yorkshire cities into the heart of the Dales on Sundays and Bank Holidays.

You can now use MetroCards on this summer's Sunday and Bank Holiday MetroConnect Dales services. English National Concessionary Senior and Disabled passes can be used on all DalesBus services . More about tickets and passes
