For a Day to Remember

The fabulous scenery on the Settle-Carlisle and Lancaster-Morecambe railway routes is truly breathtaking. Travellers taking these journeys enjoy the outstanding views ...as well as the refreshment trolley service with its home-made flapjacks, cakes and biscuits!

However well you know the Yorkshire Dales or the district of Lancaster, Morecambe and the Lune Valley, here are a few ideas to give you some inspiration to do something different on your day out. For more ideas visit www.settlecarlislerailoffer.blogspot.com

For the outdoor explorer Whether you like hiking, cycling or just taking in the view, this is ideal territory.

Ribblehead is an ideal starting point for walks with the Three Peaks offering a challenge to hardy walkers. An interesting walk will take you across Bleamoor to Dentdale where not only are there fantastic views but some of the original structures used to build the railway still in place. The walk between Ribblehead and Dent station is about 7 miles and follows the route of the railway as closely as possible using public paths and roads.

Or...You could climb Pen-y-Ghent from Horton-in-Ribblesdale, walk from Lazonby to Langwathby Station, visit Ingleborough Cave at Clapham, explore Coombs Wood at Armathwaite, stroll along the Bentham Heritage Trail or enjoy a bracing walk along Morecambe Promenade.

For movie fans Made famous by the 1946 David Lean film 'Brief Encounter', the Visitors Centre at Carnforth (closed on Mondays) has a refreshment room, fascinating exhibitions, a gift shop and specialist outlets here. Admission is free. Stroll through the compact but welcoming town centre which offers high street shops and cafés, plus a well-established bookshop offering new, classic, second-hand and rare books.

For history buffs Go all the way up to Carlisle and visit Carlisle Castle, once home to Mary Queen of Scots, with its medieval dungeons, passageways and chambers. Or stop off at Skipton to explore the imposing medieval castle and the museum. At Appley, see the 17th century Hospital of St. Anne almshouses in Boroughgate on the way up to the castle or the 12th Century St. Lawrence's Church. In Lancaster, discover lore and legends at Lancaster Castle, or uncover a wealth of history at the Judges' Lodgings, Maritime or City Museums.

Pen-y-ghent

For shopaholics Skipton has a wide range of different shops and places to visit with an outdoor market held on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays. The Yuletide Festival and Christmas Market will be held on Sunday 5 and 12 December 2010. Combine boutiques, art galleries and high street fashion with a luxurious lunch at the Hallmark Hotel in Carlisle or Yorkshire puddings at The Naked Man Café in Settle or a latte in a cosy coffee shop in Lancaster.

For beach lovers What's better than seaside fun? Have a coffee, an ice cream or try the famous Morecambe Bay shrimps in one of the cafés lining the seafront and admire the grand views across the estuary to the Lake District mountains. Or visit the Eric Morecambe statue which looks out across the Promenade. See the art influences of the Tern Project - a series of installations on the Promenade, and the art deco façade of the lovingly restored Midland Hotel.
